London, 22 October 2015: Sopra Steria Recruitment, leaders in recruitment transformation, has announced it has won a highly commended award by the judges of the Association of Professional Staffing Companies (APSCo) Awards for Excellence. Sopra Steria Recruitment - a wholly owned company within the Sopra Steria Group - entered the Recruitment Company of the Year (over £50m turnover) category. The judges felt that it was particularly difficult to choose a winner in this category and wanted to highly commend the organisation for their long-standing and consistent support for APSCo values.

Pete Holliday, Managing Director, Sopra Steria Recruitment, comments: “It is an honour to have been recognised as a leading organisation by APSCo again. We work hard on our clients’ behalf to influence the UK recruitment market by actively supporting APSCo aims and principles and through our own efforts to bring value to clients. Our aim is to continue to drive further value in the market – one of the initiatives we are currently working on is generating increased disability confidence for recruitment businesses and their clients by working closely with APSCo and the Business Disability Forum.”

About APSCo

The Association of Professional Staffing Companies (APSCo) has been representing professional recruiters since 1999. It was originally formed as ATSCo (The Association of Technology Staffing Companies) to provide a separate voice for recruitment firms in the IT sector. After a series of important lobbying successes, it became evident that other professional recruiters wanted a distinctive voice and specialist support and APSCo was formed in 2009.

Since then, the organisation has gone from strength to strength. It is now a trusted advisor to Government and has earned a strong reputation for providing high quality support services and events. APSCo has become a trusted badge of quality with an increasingly international profile. Its position as the only membership body dedicated to professional staffing, its strong service offering and international reach means that APSCo is growing rapidly as professional recruitment firms seek out a distinctive brand that reflects their needs and is aligned to current staffing trends.
